WHY BECOME A CITY OF PEACE

ENVISION A WORLD WHERE CITIES DEFINE THEMSELVES IN THE LANGUAGE OF PEACE.

Imagine a world of villages and towns dedicated to expanding their local peace economy and encouraging a global culture of peace. Safety, prosperity, and quality of life are universal values that bring peace to our lives.

The International Cities of Peace initiative is creating a network of communities that, by history, resolution, or proclamation, are doing just that - self-defining themselves as official Cities of Peace.

First and foremost in this global adventure is to reject violence and define ourselves as people of peace. The cause of peace is carried by billions of people: workers building bridges and roads, teachers teaching, mothers nurturing, artists creating, peace officers keeping us safe, sports figures inspiring greatness.

This can't be done in a polarized environment where the world is split into culprits and victims. This redefinition will require building a consensus network of business, government and community leaders who value safety, prosperity, and quality of life.

IS YOUR CITY ALREADY A CITY OF PEACE?

International Cities of Peace is an association of citizens, governments and organizations who have by proclamation, resolution, or by citizen advocacy established their communities as official Cities of Peace. Every community has a legacy of peace, whether it is by a historical event or by a local peace heroes or groups who have contributed to their citizen's safety, prosperity and quality of life.

No city is 100% a city of peace, rather all are on the path to “becoming” a more peaceful city. Establishing a community as a peace city recognizes past achievements, encourages current initiatives, and inspires future generations for practical peace building.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

FIVE STEPS TO ESTABLISHING YOUR COMMUNITY AS AN INTERNATIONAL CITY OF PEACE

To create an initiative is a profound process yet simple to accomplish and costs no money. You can emphasize the work you or your group are currently doing. Or you can create a new organization for community peace building.

Each community has a legacy of peace that can be highlighted, especially in terms of giving hope and encouragement to children and adults alike. International Cities of Peace is not a funding organization but individual cities of peace have the option of working with other cities through our Global Family Program.

One person, perhaps you, will be included on our Advisory Council of Leaders. We will make the announcement about your initiative when the following are received:

1. Get signatures on the Letter of Intent (download from website, then print, get signatures, and scan to return)
2. Write a vision, mission, and goals statement
3. Send photos and captions of local events and locations (certify that you are sending only non-copyrighted photos that you have personally taken)
4. Submit a photo and bio for the leader of the group
5. Write a statement about the peace legacy of your community

Once the unique web page for your community is created, we will make the announcement to our membership and the world.

WAYS TO ORGANIZE

There are as many ways to create a City of Peace as there are people to be inspired. This document includes some essential and optional steps for creating an effective organization. We hope these ideas and suggestions are of help.

SUGGESTIONS

1. Form a group of friends and colleagues who value peace. Connect with Rotary or another civic, faith-based, or grassroots organization.
2. Create a Vision, Mission, Goals, and Objectives (use other City versions as a template).
3. Produce promotional tools, such as a website and flyers.
4. Begin an area campaign to educate about a Culture of Peace.
5. Research, document, and publicize your area's legacy of peacemaking.
6. Hold peacebuilding events to foster a Culture of Peace.
7. Partner with like-minded organizations.
8. Recruit citizen liaisons for all constituencies and stakeholders groups.
9. Hold an exhibit at a venue, such as a library, and invite local dignitaries.
10. Gather signatures and submit a Resolution to your civic government.

IDEAS FOR PEACE BUILDING

- Incorporate in your state or province as a nonprofit corporation.
- File for 501(c)3 nonprofit status so donations are tax exempt.
- Establish a physical presence with an office and/or activity room.
- Secure venues for peace-related exhibits.
- Seek funding through grants and private donations for programs.

INCLUDING EVERYONE

INCLUSIVENESS, DIVERSITY, COLLABORATION

“Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful committed citizens can change the world: Indeed it's the only thing that ever has.” -- Margaret Mead

Whether you have a small or large organization, the following organizational method is an easy, manageable means of getting all of the stakeholders in a community onboard.

1. Create a Program of Leader by encouraging individuals to coordinate and publicize your City of Peace activities.
2. Form an Executive Advisory Panel of commercial leaders who generate ideas and have connections to area support.
3. Gather a Group of Citizen Liaisons who network within their area of expertise (such as an artist contacting the arts community). The Liaison's would gather signatures and set up a Community Advisory Panel of ten community leaders who generate ideas and give support. The following Communities are important in every City, Town, or Village on the globe:

- ✓ Local and Regional Civic Community
- ✓ Arts Community
- ✓ Faith-Based Community
- ✓ Service Community
- ✓ Safety and Security Community
- ✓ Wellness Community
- ✓ Sports and Entertainment Community

WHAT IS A CULTURE OF PEACE?

“The Culture of Peace is a set of values, attitudes, modes of behavior and ways of life that reject violence and prevent conflicts by tackling their root causes to solve problems through dialogue and negotiation among individuals, groups and nations.” -- UN Resolutions A/RES/52/13 : Culture of Peace

Declaration and Program of Action on a Culture of Peace

The U.N. has suggested that for peace and non-violence to prevail, our communities need to do the following:

- 1. Foster a culture of peace through education
- 2. Promote sustainable economic and social development
- 3. Promote respect for all human rights
- 4. Ensure equality between women and men
- 5. Foster democratic participation
- 6. Advance understanding, tolerance and solidarity
- 7. Support participatory communication and the free flow of information and knowledge
- 8. Promote international peace and security

The International Cities of Peace initiative supports the worldwide celebration of U.N. sponsored “Peace One Day” on September 21 each year. Plan a community event to coalesce support for an area City of Peace movement and to foster a culture of peace.

Dear Colleague in Peace,

Thank you for inquiring about International Cities of Peace. We are a not-for-profit association dedicated to helping establish, promote, and connect Cities of Peace around the world. Members of a Leadership Council of Liaisons from Cities of Peace organizations around the globe are building an inclusive, non-polarizing network of citizens working to foster a more peaceful culture in their local communities.

VISION: To encourage the establishment of Cities of Peace around the world.

MISSION: To promote, network, document, and provide resources and information for leaders and organizations working to establish peace as a consensus value through community Cities of Peace initiatives.

First and foremost in this global endeavor toward creating a culture of peace is to reject violence and define ourselves as people of peace. The International Cities of Peace initiative is supporting communities that by history, resolution, proclamation, or simply citizen endeavors are working to self-define themselves as official Cities of Peace.

Attached is a Letter of Intent for individuals and organizations to acknowledge efforts to create a new, or to foster a current City of Peace. We hope you along with others in your community will sign the Letter and return it to the address below.

On our website (www.internationalcitiesofpeace.org) there are many useful documents, including "Becoming a City of Peace," which has ideas and models for creating an effective organization. If you need more support or have questions, please let us know.

Again, thank you for your interest and for your peaceful nature. As colleagues in peace, we look forward to learning more about your individual and organizational efforts toward increasing the safety, prosperity, and quality of life that are the consensus values of peace in communities around the world.

Sincerely and with respect,

LETTER OF INTENT

The undersigned, as citizens of (the City) _____, in (state/province) _____, in the country of _____ hereby acknowledge our intention to help build a community City of Peace.

A City of Peace, as officially defined by International Cities of Peace, is a community that endeavors to make progress against violence and foster a culture of peace. A Culture of Peace is determined by the citizens of each community. As a guideline, United Nations Resolution A/RES/52/13 defines a Culture of Peace as a set of values, attitudes, modes of behavior and ways of life that reject violence and prevent conflicts by tackling their root causes to solve problems through dialogue and negotiation among individuals, groups, and nations.

For peace and non-violence to prevail, we endeavor to:

- Foster a culture of peace through education
- Promote sustainable economic and social development
 - Promote respect for all human rights
 - Ensure equality between women and men
 - Foster democratic participation
- Advance understanding, tolerance and solidarity
- Support participatory communication and the free flow of information and knowledge
 - Promote international peace and security

In addition to the UNESCO statement on a culture of peace, the Golden Rule (variously stated including "Do for others as you would have them to do for you") provides a universal statement for compassion and respect among a community's diverse philosophies, religions, and personal creeds.
